Fire Code Violations

The following photos are some of the items not allowed in University of Rhode Island residence halls. If you have any of these items, please send them home immediately. If a student is found with any of the following or any other prohibited item, the student will be documented and may face student conduct action. Probation, fines, and removal from the residence halls are all possible sanctions that residents may face. Please refer to the URI Student Handbook, HRL Housing Agreement, and the Fire & Life Safety website for more details.
