Conduct Advisors to Students

The University Student Conduct System is not an adversarial process, but an impartial inquiry into student conduct and the facts of the incident. A Conduct Advisor’s role is to provide guidance and support for students involved in student conduct matters. A Conduct Advisor may be a student, faculty, or staff member at the University who has been trained on the University Student Conduct System. Parents or guardians do not serve in a Conduct Advisor role. Training on the Student Handbook and student conduct procedures is strongly recommended for an individual serving in the Conduct Advisor role. Students involved in the process as complainants or respondents are entitled to seek advice from anyone they wish, including attorneys.

However, anyone with a law degree or a licensed attorney is only permitted to serve as a Conduct Advisor in University Student Conduct Systems meetings or hearings where students are:

a) Involved in incidents involving sexual assault, sexual harassment, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, or
b) Involved in incidents when there is a concurrent criminal charge

The Dean of Students must give prior approval in all instances where licensed attorneys or the presence of anyone with a law degree is requested.

A student with a disability affecting communication or a student who cannot effectively communicate in the English language may seek a reasonable accommodation to allow an advisor or interpreter to present or translate the case for the student.

Role of the Conduct Advisor

The Conduct Advisor’s role is passive and includes the following during the student conduct process:

- To advise the student or student organization on the preparation and presentation of the information prior to and during meetings and hearing
- To accompany the student or student organization to all student conduct meetings and hearings
- To advise the student or student organization in the preparation and presentation of any appeal
- To ensure that the student or student organization understands the seriousness of the hearing
- To consult with and advise the respondent or complainant during the process
- To support the complainant or respondent during the student conduct process

A Conduct Advisor may not do any of the following:

- Present any part of the information for the student/organization
- Ask any questions of any witnesses appearing for the respondent or for the complainant
- Ask any questions of the Student Conduct Administrator or Hearing Panel during hearings Conduct Advisors not complying with or disrupting the student conduct procedures will be removed from the hearing.

Below is a list of staff members who have volunteered to be Conduct Board Advisors. If you would like to have an advisor you may choose someone from this list or select another member of the URI community so long as they meet the requirements stated above. If you decide you would like to have a Conduct Advisor present it is your responsibility to secure an advisor, one will not be selected for you.
