Brianne Fagan is a chemistry and pre-engineering teacher at Mount Pleasant High School in Providence. Brianne has served as a member of the turnaround school leadership plan team through the Center for Leadership and Educational Equity for two years at Mount Pleasant. She earned her BS from Colorado School of Mines in chemical engineering, and her teaching certificate through Rhode Island College.