YOU’LL FIND YOUR PLACE, YOUR PEOPLE, YOUR RAMFAM.

Most first-year campus residents live in Living and Learning Communities (LLCs), surrounded by friends with similar academic interests. Sharing classes and living together make it easy to make connections, both socially and academically.

“Living down the line” in nearby beach houses and other rental properties is a popular option for many upper-level students.

94% first-year students reside on campus.

23% students active in campus fraternities and sororities.

30 student residence halls.

15 first-year Living Learning Communities.

Sustainability@URI

If you think “sustainability” is just another buzzword, you haven’t seen URI in action. You’ll be part of a culture invested in teaching and research, hands-on learning, and student action for environmental justice. You’ll be part of changing things for the better.

Since 2017, over 310,000 pounds of URI dining waste has been composted and used by regional farmers.

Our Energy Fellows Program serves as a talent pipeline. Top energy companies mentor fellows, and often hire them after graduation.

#EATLOCALURI

You’ll love the variety of regionally sourced produce, herbs, seafood, and dairy products we offer, including an organic terraponic garden right in your dining hall.

LOCAL CATCH OF THE MONTH

When we say fresh, we mean it. With our Local Catch of the Month dinners, you’ll enjoy fish caught in nearby waters—sustainable, local species sourced from nearby seafood harvesters and processors.

OUR OWN CHEFS

At URI, your dining experience is not outsourced. We hire local chefs and support staff who cook from the heart and treat students like family.

INNOVATE
Our interdisciplinary Artificial Intelligence Lab provides state-of-the-art equipment and resources for you to design, build, and investigate the ethics around smart cities, and technologies like robotics and wearable tech.

COLLABORATE
Our Colleges of Health Sciences, Nursing, and Pharmacy collaborate to offer a cross-disciplinary approach to prepare you for a rapidly evolving health care environment.

LEAD
Our leadership studies minor is customized for you. 100% of students in this minor participate in internships.

COMMUNICATE
In an ever-changing landscape, our Harrington School of Communication and Media provides interdisciplinary studies, internships, expert faculty, and a world-renowned alumni network to prepare and connect you.

EXCEL
Our Honors Colloquium attracts some of the biggest thinkers in the world, like Jane Goodall. 1,354 students are enrolled in Honors courses.

THINK BIGGER THAN YOURSELF
AN OCEAN STATE OF MIND

It helps to be located near Narragansett Bay. It’s an endless resource for teaching, study, and discovery. It’s inspiration, beauty, and a whole lot of fun. And at URI, it’s your backyard.
YOU’LL DISCOVER NEW WAYS OF LOOKING AT THE WORLD

It’s an interconnected world, and we’ll get you ready for it. Languages, research, service, studying abroad—we offer it all. uri.edu/global

GLOBALIZE YOUR PERSPECTIVE
Want to study fashion merchandising in Paris, work with environmental scientists in Indonesia, or perfect your German in Munich while interning with BMW? We’ll get you there. From Havana to Milan, you can choose from a vast array of study-abroad programs to immerse yourself in another culture for a year, a semester, or over January break (J-Term). At URI, you’ll make friends from around the world and join a global-minded campus community, too.

GLOBALIZE YOUR DEGREE
With our signature programs, you can pursue a double major abroad, while gaining hands-on professional experience through an international internship. Develop cross-cultural communication skills and practical job training to truly globalize your college degree.

WHAT WILL YOUR BIG IDEA BE?

No pressure, but we want to prepare you to help solve the problems of the world.

Whether it’s across the physical and natural sciences, the health professions, or the humanities and arts, you’ll partner with world-class faculty to make ideas happen. You’ll be part of a community of dedicated educators and engineers, scientists and scholars, artists and mentors.

You’ll be part of something BIG.

FINANCIAL AID AND MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS

We recommend that all applicants apply for financial aid by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Apply between October 1 and March 1 at fafsa.ed.gov.

We offer a wide range of merit scholarships to students who have had a challenging curriculum, earned a recalculated 3.2/4.0 GPA, and an SAT of 1130 or ACT of 23.

There is no separate scholarship application. To be considered for our highest scholarships, we recommend that you apply by our December 1 Early Action deadline. We also strongly recommend that students interested in business, engineering, music therapy, nursing, and pharmacy apply by December 1, as spaces are limited in these programs.

Questions regarding provisions for students with disabilities should be directed to the director of Disability Services for Students in the Office of Student Life, 330 Memorial Union, Kingston, R.I., 401.874.2098 (TTY via R.I. Relay 711; uri.edu/disability).
