If you have attempted fewer than 24 transferable credits you must earn a minimum 2.8 GPA (on a 4.0 scale) and meet all freshman admission requirements.

If you have attempted at least 24 transferable credits you must earn a minimum 2.5 GPA (on a 4.0 scale).

If you have earned an Associate's or Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution, you must earn a minimum 2.4 GPA (on a 4.0 scale).

Admission to Kinesiology: Exercise Science track and Nutrition & Dietetics have secondary admission requirement. Admission is on a space available basis.

Minimum requirements for consideration include:

- A cumulative GPA of 3.3
  - Human Anatomy
  - Introductory Chemistry Lecture
  - General Psychology
  - Writing to Inform and Explain (i.e. College-level Composition)

Please note that satisfying all of the criteria listed above does not guarantee admission to the concentration.

Nutrition and Dietetics

Transfer students are not accepted directly into the Nutrition and Dietetics major. Admission is a two step process, dependent on both space availability and a competitive waitlist system.

Minimum requirements for consideration include:

- An overall GPA of 2.8
- A solid academic program of study with a strong background in math and science

The order by which students are admitted is determined by the GPA (courses must be taken at URI) in the following four courses:

- Two science course sequence: either chemistry (CHM 103/105 and CHM 124/126) or biology (BIO 121 and BIO 242) and
- Two nutrition course sequence: NFS 207 or 210 and NFS 276

Applicants who accept admission to any non-Kinesiology major will not be considered for on-campus change-of-major (internal transfer) to at a later date. We do not anticipate any changes to this policy.
