FALL 2019 SYLLABUS TEMPLATE FOR GENERAL USE IN UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

Located in Roosevelt Hall, the Academic Enhancement Center (AEC), offers several kinds of support that help students improve their learning and academic performance in this class and other classes. For information on any of these programs, visit uri.edu/aec, call the AEC’s main number at (401) 874-2367, or follow the program-specific suggestions below:

- STEM Tutoring
  Located on the fourth floor of Roosevelt Hall, helps students navigate 100 and 200 level math, chemistry, physics, biology, and other select STEM courses. Students can join a Weekly Tutoring Group with others in their courses (instructions are available on the tutoring website), stop by a subject-specific Drop-In Center as needed, or make a one-time Tutoring Appointment. Information on what these programs offer, when they are available, and how to utilize them can be found at uri.edu/aec/tutoring. Receptionists are available to answer questions at 401-874-2367.

- Academic Skills Consultations and UCS 160
  This support helps students plan work, manage your time, and learn to study more effectively in any course. Academic Consultations are 30-minute, 1 to 1 appointments that students can schedule on Starfish with Dr. David Hayes, the AEC’s Director of Academic Skills Development programs. UCS160: Success in Higher Education is a one credit course, offered each semester to all undergraduates, on developing a more effective approach to studying. For more information on these programs or assistance with setting an appointment, visit uri.edu/aec/academic-skills or contact Dr. Hayes directly at davidhayes@uri.edu.

- The Undergraduate Writing Center
  In the Undergraduate Writing Center, located in Roosevelt 009, students work side-by-side with peer tutors to find ways to best communicate their ideas in writing. Tutors can help students get "un-stuck" on any writing assignment, at any stage of the writing process: from understanding a prompt and brainstorming ideas, to outlining and drafting, to developing strategies for revision. Appointments are free! We recommend scheduling ahead of time as spaces do fill up, but drop-ins may be available. Students can view the current schedule and book online at uri.mywcoline.com or call The Writing Center reception desk: 401-874-5839.
