

Student Guide to the AEC

Start Here

Are you in need of tutoring for STEM & BUS classes?

Are you looking for support with a writing assignment?

Are you looking for help with academic skills?

STEM & BUS Tutoring

Academic Skills Development

Undergraduate Writing Center

Flexible content specific support.

Consistent content-specific support.

Help with planning, time management, & study strategies.

Help with all aspects of academic skills development.

Assist in all stages of writing.

Feedback on later-stage drafts or follow-up after consultation.

The Library Drop - In Center

Small Group Tutoring

Peer Academic Skills Consultations

Professional Academic Skills Consultation

UCS 160 & 161

In-Person & Online Consultations

Written Feedback

Great for quick questions and you can visit as much as you like.

Located in library LL4 and open Monday - Thursday from 1pm-7pm.

Great for in-depth knowledge and questions. Same tutor at the same time each week, allowing you to get to know your peers.

Located primarily in Roosevelt and your 50-minute appointment can be online or in person.

Use TracCloud to schedule.

Peer consultants help with planning, time management, and study strategies.

You can schedule 50 minute Academic Skills Consultations either in person or online through TracCloud

Dr. David Hayes can help you with all areas of academic skills development including planning, time management, studying, motivation, procrastination, attention, test taking, & test anxiety.

You students can schedule 30 min, 1-1 consultations (in person or online) via starfish.

UCS 160: Success in Higher Education and UCS 161: Becoming a More Self Directed Learner are 1 credit courses that teach college-specific planning, work management and study skills.

UCS 160 is open to all undergraduates. 161 has 160 as a prerequisite, or permission of instructor.

Meet 1-on-1 with a peer writing consultant in Roosevelt 009 or online. You can bring any writing assignment, at any stage (even if you haven't started writing yet). We can also help with personal statements for applications.

Schedule 25- or 50-minute appointments on WOnline via SSO in My Apps.

If you've already met with a consultant 1-1 and you have a well-developed draft, you can submit your work for written feedback. A peer consultant will respond to your questions or concerns in writing.

Next-day feedback available Monday through Friday.