A photograph showing two students, a young man and a young woman, working together on a large, industrial-scale printing press. The young man, wearing a white t-shirt with a graphic design, is operating the machine. The young woman, wearing a dark long-sleeved shirt, is assisting him. They are both looking down at the paper being processed. The machine is a large, heavy-duty industrial press with rollers and a large curved arm. The background shows a workshop environment with various tools and equipment.
