

Emely Baez

Providence, RI | ebaez@uri.edu | (401) 803-7096 | linkedin.com/in/ebaetz/

Professional Summary:

Nursing student with 2 years of patient care experience internationally and within the hospital setting. Dedicated to improving the health disparities across the globe through quality and compassionate care.

Education:

University of Rhode Island, Kingston, RI - College of Nursing May 2024
Bachelor of Science, Nursing (BSN)
3.8/4.0 GPA; Pathways to Nursing Scholar; Dean's List, Honors Program

Clinical Experience:

Geriatric, Newport Hospital, Newport RI September - December 2022

- Obtained and recorded patients' vital signs, intake and output and blood glucose
- Worked with diabetic, cardiac and oncology patients
- Assisted patients with activities of daily living including bathing, dressing, toileting and feeding

Medical-Surgical, South County Hospital, Wakefield RI January - May 2021

- Reported to various medical staff members including doctors surgeons and treatment counselors in order to offer observational notes and additional support for the clinical team
- Performed intake tasks such as recording patient history and symptom reports and taking patient vital signs
- Operated and sterilized medical equipment. Prepared rooms for patient visits procedures and testing

Nursing Experience:

Patient Care Attendant, Women & Infants Hospital, Providence RI May 2023 - Present

- Assist registered nurses on a neurology/neurotrauma/neurosurgery floor and stepdown unit
- Take patients vital signs and blood sugars, give baths, assist with feedings and ambulation, help with activities of daily living, monitor intake and outputs, adhere to strict safety precautions, document findings and report to nurse

URI Study Abroad, Social Determinants of Health, Indonesia January 2023

- Took blood pressure and educated residents' on ways to lower the risk of stroke in a society with high-risk factors, including generally salty food and a prevalence of cigarette smoking
- Explained the importance one on one to patients with high blood pressure and the importance of taking medication
- Presented findings with a group of 10 other classmates from various countries on the prevention of stroke

Other Experience:

Resident Assistant, URI Residential Life, Kingston, RI January 2021 - May 2022

- Developed an inclusive community among 30+ residents and ensured a safe, learning environment
- Helped provide conflict resolution in a professional manner
- Partnered with Health Services to allow residents to learn about preventative skin care

Child Care, Various Families, RI and MA April 2019 - March 2023

- Cared for children ages infant – 7 years old; make all meals, create and facilitate activities
- Coached children through difficult behaviors using positive reinforcement and encouraging teamwork

SKILLS & CERTIFICATIONS

Basic Life Support (BLS), American Heart Association, expires: 10/8/2025

Epic Electronic Medical Record Chart Training

Community First Responder Narcan Training

Bilingual in Spanish

CAMPUS INVOLVEMENT & ACTIVITIES

Phi Eta Sigma Honor Society

February 2021 - Present

Student Nurses Association

September 2020 - Present