Labor Relations and Human Resources

M.S., M.S./J.D., Graduate Certificate Programs.

401.874.2239

Faculty: Teaching Professor, Phelps director, Schmidt Labor Research Center. Professors Cooper and McIntyre; Associate Professors Djurdjevic Loomis and Rogers; Assistant Professor Tabor; Professors Emeriti Feldman, Molloy, Rothstein, and Scholl

This program is designed for labor relations and human resource professionals or students who aspire to such positions. Students in other graduate programs may find it rewarding and professionally desirable to enroll in one or more of the labor relations and human resource courses or pursue a graduate certificate. All courses are offered in the evenings or on weekends in Providence or Kingston so that they are convenient for working students. Full-time and part-time programs are available.

Specializations

Students may specialize in labor relations or human resources. Elective substitutions may be made with the permission of the director of the Schmidt Labor Research Center and approval of the Graduate School. Exceptional students who come into the program with a well-defined interest, as well as a proposed plan of study, may choose to create their own specializations by choosing elective courses in an area that satisfies their professional needs.

Master of Science

Admission requirements: Applicants with undergraduate majors in any field are considered for admission. Interview with the director required. Applicants must submit a statement of purpose; two official transcripts of all academic work, two letters of recommendation, a professional writing sample and a résumé of professional experience.

Program requirements: minimum of 36 credits, including 15 credits in core courses and 21 credits of electives of which at least 9-12 must be specialization electives in the field specified. The required courses are LHR 500/MBA 571*; LHR 551/MBA 572; LHR 531, 542, and 580. For a specialization in labor relations, select a minimum of 3 courses 12 credits from LHR/SOC 432, LHR/ECN/PSC 521, LHR/HIS 544, 545, 546, 581 or MBA 502. For a specialization in human resources, a minimum of 3 courses 12 credits from MBA 502, 577, 578, LHR 533, 581, LHR/ECN/PSC 521, MBA 573. Open electives include BUS 446, 461, LHR/PSC 503 and LHR/ECN 526, LHR 521, LHR 532, 590/591, MBA 502, 530, 540, 574, PSC 573, ECN 590, EDC 500, EDC 505, EDC 522, EDC 531, EDC 539, EDC 579, EDC 581, EDC 582, EDC 583, EDC 584, EDC 586 or any other courses eligible for graduate credit and approved by the director. In addition, students specializing in labor relations may take courses offered in the human resource specialization as open electives and students specializing in human resources may take courses offered in the labor relations specialization as open electives.
*500/571 may be waived as a required course by the program director for students with extensive human resource/labor relations academic or practical experience. The student may substitute any other approved course for the credits.

Graduate Certificate Programs in Labor Relations and Human Resources

Applicants with undergraduate majors in any field are considered for admission. Applicants must submit a statement of purpose; two official transcripts of all academic work, two letters of recommendation, a writing sample and a résumé of professional experience.

Program requirements: To earn a graduate certificate in labor relations, students must satisfactorily complete LHR 500/MBA 571 plus three four of the following courses: LHR 432, 500, 503, 521, 531, 532, 542, 544, 545, and 546 or other courses approved by the program director. To earn a graduate certificate in human resources, students must satisfactorily complete LHR 500/MBA 571 plus three four of the following courses: LHR/BUS 446, 461, LHR 432, 500, 503, 521, 531, 532, 533, 542, 545, 546, 573, 573, and MBA 502, 533, 540, 577, 578 or other courses approved by the program director. To receive certificates in both HR and LR, the student may only use one course to count for both programs. They must take 6 additional courses to receive both certificates.

Joint Program: Master of Science in Labor Relations and Human Resources (URI) and Juris Doctorate (Roger Williams University School of Law)

A cooperative dual degree program offered at URI and Roger Williams University School of Law permits dual enrollment leading to an M.S. in labor relations and human resources and a J.D. The integrated program of the two degrees allows a student to complete both programs in four years instead of the five required if both degrees are pursued separately.

Admission requirements: Students must apply and be accepted into each program under the separate admission requirements currently in effect at each school. Applicants must indicate the M.S./J.D. on the “Degree Sought” section of the URI application form.

Program requirements: At Roger Williams University, the J.D. program requires 90 credits, which can be completed on a full-time basis in three years. The M.S. degree in labor relations and human resources at URI requires 36 credits, which can be completed on a full-time basis in two years. A student matriculated in the joint program will take some credits in one program that will help satisfy the overall credit requirements of the other degree program as well. Students in the joint program must complete the following core required courses as part of their 30-credit requirement at URI in addition to 6 credits taken at Roger Williams: LHR 500, 542, 551, and 580. Students who specialize in human resources must also take LHR/MBA 573 and 578, while students specializing in labor relations must take LHR/PSC 521 and LHR 545. Students must complete the required law school curriculum at Roger Williams. For students matriculated in the joint program, Roger Williams will accept the following 15 URI credits to satisfy the requirements for the J.D. degree: LHR 500, 542, and 580; LHR/ECN 526; and LHR/PSC 521.

Notice of Change for: Master of Arts in Marine Affairs

A. PROGRAM INFORMATION

1. Name of institution
   University of Rhode Island

2. Name of department, division, school or college
   Department: Marine Affairs
   College: CELS

3. Intended initiation date of program change. Include anticipated date for granting first degrees or certificates, if appropriate.
   Initiation date: Fall 2020
   First degree date: Spring 2011

4. Intended location of the program
   Department of Marine Affairs is the current location and will remain so.

5. Summary description of proposed program (not to exceed 2 pages).
   Currently, MAF offers a “thesis track” and “non-thesis track” for the Master of Arts in Marine Affairs (MAMA). Historically, the non-thesis track required students to complete a 3-credit major project (MAF 589) and a comprehensive exam. With the elimination of the MAF comprehensive exams in 2017, the department would like to create a new 6-credit MAF 598 non-thesis “major project” course. This course would be required of students in the MAMA program who want to do a major project rather than a thesis. Thesis students typically take 6 credits of MAF 599 (Masters Thesis Research), so this change would better align the number of independent project credits for non-thesis MAMA students with the required number of research credits for thesis MAMA students.

   This major project would allow students the opportunity, under the guidance of a faculty advisor, to synthesize, integrate, and apply knowledge and skills acquired in the Marine Affairs Master of Arts program. Examples of major projects might include a business plan for a seafood operation, new dataset on coastal land use, technical paper, or documentary film. Students opting for the major project would be expected to develop a project proposal that would be approved by their faculty advisor, work on and complete a final project under the supervision of the faculty advisor, present the final project in a public forum, and submit a final project report to the faculty advisor.
6. If applicable, please include the existing URI catalog language and proposed catalog changes indicated in Track Changes.

Program requirements: thesis or a major project and MAF 482, 502, 577, 651; MAF 511 or appropriate oceanography substitute; EEC 514 or appropriate resource economics substitute; plus a minimum of 21 elective credits for a total of 45 credits. This includes six credits of Masters thesis research (MAF 599) or three-six credits of Masters project research (MAF 589-598) plus an additional three-two elective credits.
