Proposal Submission Guidelines

The Center for School Improvement and Educational Policy (CSIEP) is dedicated to the continuous improvement of educational and community settings. The Center applies educational evaluation and research strategies to practical problems identified by the community and policy makers; works in partnership with schools, other universities and foundations, and federal, state and community agencies across the nation; as well as supports and assists schools and communities in their efforts to provide equitable, highly effective, and developmentally appropriate education and community-based services to all children, youth, and families. Of particular concern to the Center are those who are placed at risk by economic or social disadvantages.
