Follow the race, the mushers, and their dogs, cheer on the teams, and witness the dedication of these incredible animals.

Back from her trip to Alaska just one day before this class begins, Dorothy Cunningham will guide you through Alaska’s great race – 1049 miles over mountains, dangerous, hazardous terrain with the best-conditioned athletes, and well-trained dogs comprised of a team led by a musher (driver). Learn about the unique participants, rules, training of the dogs, veterinary care, and the responsibilities of the musher. The dog’s instinct to run and to please and protect its musher makes this race a truly fascinating event.
