

Pharmaceutical Science

As B.S.P.S. graduate, you will be qualified to seek a diverse range of career options, including research and development, manufacturing, product marketing, and administrative positions within the pharmaceutical industry, as well as careers in research and regulatory oversight within government agencies.

Research Labs for Pharmaceutical and Life Sciences
Pharmaceutical industry
Cosmetics companies
Government agencies
Specialty laboratories
Biotechnology companies
Hospitals
Commercial medical laboratories

Medical School for MD or DO
Dental School for DDS or DMD
Business School MBA
Law School for JD
Veterinary School for DVM
Pharmacy School for PharmD. (at another university since URI is a 0-6 program)

COMMON EMPLOYERS & ADVANCED DEGREES

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

American Association of Pharmaceutical Scientists
Society of Toxicology
National Pharmaceutical Association

STRATEGIES ON ENTERING THE FIELD

- Develop excellent lab and computer skills
- Seek undergraduate research and internship opportunities in your area of interest
- Join professional associations
- Develop strong communication skills through leadership roles and campus involvement