

THE FACULTY LIFE COURSE:

POLICIES AND PRACTICES, INCLUDING PART-TIME
TENURE TRACK OPTIONS, THAT PROMOTE
FAUCLTY ENGAGEMENT AND SUCCESS
OVER A DECADES-LONG CAREER

Thursday, October 26, 2017

URI Multicultural Center

8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

We welcome Joan Herbers to URI for a day of conversation about flexible faculty career options. Please consider attending one or more of the following events:

8:30 - 10:00 a.m.

Administrative Breakfast: Part-Time on the Tenure Track

A conversation with administrators, deans, and chairs. Please RSVP

10:30 - 11:30 a.m.

Careers in 21st Century Higher Education: Academic Paths in a Gig Economy

An informal graduate student conversation. All grad students welcome. Please RSVP

11:30 - 12:30 p.m.

Part-time Tenure Track Practices at URI? A Working Lunch

An informal working session lunch for those who are interested in exploring the implementation of this practice at URI. Please RSVP

2:00 - 3:30 p.m.

Keynote Address: The Faculty Life Course: Policies and Practices That Promote Faculty Engagement and Success

A faculty community conversation about the evolving challenges and emerging paradigm of the new faculty life course. All are welcome!

Joan Herbers, PhD

Joan Herbers is Professor of Evolution, Ecology, and Organismal Biology, and of Women's Gender, and Sexuality Studies at the Ohio State University. She is the author of the 2014 ASHE Report, Part-Time on the Tenure Track, that makes the case for this approach to faculty flexibility across the span of faculty careers. Her visit will provide the URI community with information about this beneficial, yet underutilized concept and practice. Author of the TED Talk, Challenging the Ideal Worker, Herbers writes and speaks nationally on this topic and others related to the faculty career course.

RSVP to worklife@etal.uri.edu

Sponsored by the URI Work-Life Committee, the Provost's Office, and the College of Business Administration.