

Kate Jelinek, PhD, CPA
Associate Professor of Accounting
2013-2018

Qualifications: 2005, PhD in Accounting, University of Connecticut, Storrs, Connecticut

Teaching Responsibilities: (2/3), Two undergraduate courses each Fall semester, averaging 40 students; Three undergraduate or graduate courses each Spring semester, averaging 40 students in undergraduate courses and 20 in graduate course.

Research Record: Scholarly Academic (SA): 4 Peer-reviewed Journal Articles: 2 Conference Presentations

Jelinek, K. (2018). Will and Caroline: Accounting, Professional Integrity and Lobbying. Journal of Accounting Education, 43, 76-88.

Jelinek, K. (2016). Wax on, wax off: Transfer of Learning through an Experiential Learning Project. Accounting Educators' Journal, 26, 35-59.

Jelinek, K. (2015). Between a rock and a hard place: Conflict minerals and professional integrity. Business Horizons, 58 (5), 485-492.

Jelinek, K. (2015). The auditing profession: Accounting for some things. Business Horizons, 58 (5).

Professional Engagement:

Faculty advisor, Beta Alpha Psi (facilitating 10-15 professional presentations/events throughout academic year)

Guest editor, Special section on Current Issues in Auditing, Business Horizons

Editorial review board, Business Horizons

Ad hoc reviewer, Quarterly Review of Economics and Finance

Ad hoc reviewer, Advances in Accounting Education

Finance Committee Member, Our Lady of Mercy Church, East Greenwich

Research Award, Best Education Paper Award, American Accounting Association

Teaching award, Beta Gamma Sigma, URI

CPA license (active), Massachusetts