

“A Special Place” Photography Experience

An Intergenerational Art Project

Get out your camera or phone and be part of this art project!

OLLI members, URI HDF students and faculty/staff, and URI CDC preschool children and their families are invited to get involved with our ongoing intergenerational art project by participating in a “special place” photography experience. To participate, follow the steps outlined below. Remember to have fun and focus on the process rather than the final photo product!

Think about places that are special to you (a special place can be your own backyard, the cozy corner in your living room where you read books, a place outside in nature that you enjoy, a museum, the soccer field where you play pick up games every weekend, anywhere that is special to you).

- List some places that are special to you, and reflect on why these places are special to you.
- Visit one of your local special places. (We hope to focus on special places in and around RI, but we are happy to learn about your far away special places as well.)
- Take a few photos of your special place. Photos can be taken on a cell phone, ipad, or camera. The photos will focus on the place. We ask that you do not appear in the photo for this project.
- Upload your photo(s) and a little information about the special place through this google form by April 15, 2022. If you have difficulty navigating the form, you can submit your photo as an email attachment instead.
- OLLI members can also register to attend a special places photo discussion session which will be held on Friday, April 22, 2022 from 10:00-11:30 am. All OLLI members are invited to submit a photo, even if you are not able to attend the discussion session. (URIOLLI.AUGUSOFT.NET or call 401-874-4197). Special place photo submissions may be displayed in our Intergenerational Art Show in the Kingston Free Library Entryway Gallery in May, in an online gallery, and/or at OLLI.
