

Office of Admission

URI Narragansett Undergraduate Scholarship

Provides full, in-state tuition and fees for up to four years to students of Narragansett Indian ancestry who have been accepted to a URI undergraduate program. It also includes an additional grant of up to $5,000 based on full-time enrollment.

Eligibility Criteria

In addition to being accepted into an undergraduate degree program*+, students must have:

- An official FAFSA on file and all verification requirements completed.
- A tribal enrollment identification card or an official letter from the tribal administration that confirms membership through a direct family member (parents).

**For programs with special undergraduate program fees and charges, awards may be changed at the discretion of the University. The tuition scholarship amount is reduced by merit awards, the Hardge grant, and tuition waivers.*

+ All awards will be reduced/pro-rated (including $5,000 award) if a student is enrolled part-time and/or in online programs.

For More Information

admissions.uri.edu/register/Narragansett

We respectfully acknowledge that the University of Rhode Island is on the land and territories of the Narragansett Nation and the Niantic People.

