Loaner devices must be reserved at least two weeks before your departure. To check availability and reserve a laptop, please complete this form and send to URI Information Technology (IT) helpdesk@uri.edu and to the Export Control Officer ross.levine@uri.edu. If your TA is pending submit the form to hold your reservation. Your TA must be approved prior to release of the loaner laptop.

- For assistance contact ross.levine@uri.edu
- Your request will be reviewed by IT and the URI Export Control Officer. There are a limited number of devices available.
- In case of conflict, priority will be given to individuals traveling to higher risk countries and/or those whose areas of research or technology pose higher risk of loss.
 - Higher Intellectual Property theft risk countries include Algeria, Argentina, Chile, China, Columbia, India, Indonesia, Kuwait, Russia, Ukraine and Venezuela, per the 2018 US Trade Representative's IP Watch List.
 - OFAC sanctioned countries (Cuba, Iran, North Korea, Syria and Sudan) are also high risk countries and travelers may need an export license to bring a laptop to any of these countries. Contact the Export Control Officer for assistance (Ross Levine, 401 874-5343).
 - High risk research and technology areas include but are not limited to military and dual use technologies such as marine and undersea telecommunications, navigation/avionics, robotic, autonomous and remotely operated vehicles/drones, targeting and stealth, data networking and encryption, medical and pharmaceutical, manufacturing and prototyping, security (IT and physical), sensors and lasers, microorganisms, chemicals and satellite and spacecraft systems.
- If not approved for a loaner, the URI IT Service Desk may be able to assist you to prepare your laptop for your trip. Contact the URI Help Desk at 401 874-4357 for information.
- If you need additional space for any items, please add a page.
