

A1 – STEM Disciplines Full

Science, technology, engineering, and mathematics disciplines develop critical thinkers and innovators that can address and solve the problems facing an ever-changing and growing world. Courses that satisfy the STEM Disciplines Learning Outcome (A1) are predominantly offered at the 100 and 200 level, exposing students to new ways of thinking and analyzing problems from the start of their academic career which they can apply to their focus or field of study.

