

ANNUAL REPORT
HONORS PROGRAM AND VISITING SCHOLARS COMMITTEE
2012-2013

The Honors Colloquium, Healthcare Change? was our major public offering last year. This series addressed foundational changes in the political and economic forces shaping personal, state, national, and international health. The Colloquium was coordinated by Professors Jeffrey Bratberg, College of Pharmacy; Mary Cloud, College of Nursing; Roger LeBrun, College of Environment and Life Sciences; Shahla Yekta, College of Nursing with the assistance of Deborah Gardiner of the Honors program. Pulitzer Prize-winning author, Tracy Kidder was the opening speaker for the Colloquium and discussed his biography of Paul Farmer, a physician bent on improving the health of some of the poorest people on the planet. The colloquium closed with a presentation by Unni Karunakara, international president of Doctors Without Borders.

Our continuing spring Colloquium was Classroom without Borders. Robert Widell, Assistant Professor of History, taught a class on poverty and housing featuring a number of URI based experts. The students then spent spring break working on a Habitat for Humanity project in Birmingham Alabama, supervised by Professor Widell. This experience has been successful in building community among Honors students and we will be offering it again in spring 2014.

The annual Honors Undergraduate Research Conference was held in Lippitt Hall on May 2, 2013. Forty students presented their projects on sixteen different panels. This included projects from all the undergraduate degree granting colleges, offering an impressive array of departments and programs. The titles of the projects along with the names of the faculty sponsors are available as Appendix B to this report. Associate Honors Director Carolyn Hames organized the conference with the assistance of Program Coordinator, Deborah Gardiner.

The Honors Program continued to offer a wide range of stimulating Honors courses and visiting scholars, promote scholarship opportunities, sponsor undergraduate research projects, advise pre-Health students, and provide financial support for noted scholars to come to URI for special presentations to students, faculty, and the public. A brief informational report describing specific activities of the Committee for 2012-2013 follows.

A. Eligibility Standards for 2012-2013

The standards of eligibility for students to participate in Honors Program course work were changed for both incoming and continuing students. Beginning with the class of 2013, incoming students must have earned a high school GPA of 3.4 or higher, and a combined SAT score of 1100 or higher in Critical Reading and Mathematics (or an ACT composite score of 24 or higher). Sophomores, juniors, and seniors must have earned a 3.3 GPA to remain eligible (up from 3.2). Under special circumstances, these requirements may be modified with permission of the Director.

Sophomore students with at least two honors courses and 3.3 or better GPA were offered the opportunity to “join” the Honors program. To qualify these students must meet with an Honors advisor and their major advisor, and commit to a declaration of intent to complete the honors program. Once students have joined as so long as they re-commit each semester they are granted an early registration time. This is the fourth year of a pilot program designed to meet one of the criteria of a “fully developed honors program” according to the standards of the National Collegiate Honors Council. We thank Associate Provost Dean Libutti for his help with this experimental initiative and look forward to making this a permanent feature of the program. When fully implemented our program will meet all the national standards set down by the National Collegiate Honors Council.

B. Courses and Enrollment

During the Fall, 2012 semester, the Program offered Thirty Honors courses in addition to Senior Honors Projects, Honors Directed Study and Administrative Internships: twenty 100-level courses, the 200-level Colloquium, five 300-level tutorials, and four 400-level Senior Seminars.

In the Spring, 2013 semester we offered twenty-nine Honors courses in addition to Senior Honors Projects, Administrative Internships and Honors Directed Study: twelve 100-level courses, one 200-level Colloquium, thirteen 300-level tutorials, and three 400-level Senior Seminars.

Student enrollment in Honors classes was 562 during the Fall, 2012 semester and 441 students during the Spring, 2013 semester.

C. Faculty and Staff

The Honors faculty is drawn from seven of the University's colleges. See Appendix A for a list of those who taught Honors courses in 2012-2013.

Over the past several years we have consciously attempted to increase the disciplinary diversity of our course offerings. We intend the Honors Program to be the premier inter-disciplinary teaching site on campus.

The program offered ten new courses in 2012-13, including "Health Care Change? Health, Politics, & Money" (Colloquium), "Writing and Empathy," "Introduction to the Medical Profession," "Salty Tales: The Communication of Oceanographic Phenomena," "Literary Acoustics," "Diversity in Film," "What's in a Genome?," "Suicide in Literature," "European Integration," the first class at URI taught by an international distinguished visiting scholar, and "Class and Social Justice," our first Winter J-Term Session course.

Cheryl Foster was appointed as an Associate Director in January 2013, and was honored as UC Adviser of the Year in her capacity as Honors Adviser. Professor Foster was also honored nationally as one of seven Kennedy Center/Stephen Sondheim "Inspirational Teacher" Awardees.

After a national search, Caitlin Green was hired in April 2013 as Communications and Outreach Specialist, a new staff position.

Director Richard McIntyre bid adieu to the Honors Program at the end of June 2013. Professor McIntyre led the program through a period of significant development during his seven-year term as Director and 12-year residence in Honors overall.

D. Honors Colloquium

In addition to financial support from the Honors Program, sponsors in support of the Fall, 2012 Honors Colloquium were:

Sustaining Sponsors: URI Office of the President, URI Office of the Provost, The Mark and Donna Ross Honors Colloquium Humanities Endowment, The Thomas Silvia and Shannon Chandley Honors Colloquium Endowment,

Leadership Sponsors: URI College of the Environment and Life Sciences, URI College of Pharmacy, URI College of Arts and Sciences, URI Multicultural Center, URI Department of Communications and Marketing

University Sponsor: Cox Communications

Sponsors: URI College of Business Administration, URI Department of Publications and Creative Services, URI College of Engineering, URI College of Nursing, URI College of Human Science and Services, URI Division of Administration and Finance, URI Division of Student Affairs, The Harrington School of Communication and Media-Department of Communication Studies, 2012-2013 was the fourth year that the Colloquium was web-streamed live on the URI homepage. This will continue, as will archiving of most public lectures for more widespread use. The URI Department of Communications and Marketing and the URI Publications Office also wonderfully support the Colloquium.

I thank the Fall 2012 Colloquium Coordinators Professors Jef Bratberg, Mary Cloud, Roger LeBrun, Shahla Yekta for their time and creativity in conducting such an outstanding series of events and teaching the co-related Honors Colloquium class for 57 honors students. Deborah Gardiner managed the logistical and business aspects of the Colloquium with patience and efficiency.

The Fall 2013 Honors Colloquium, Great Public Schools? Everyone's Right? Everyone's Responsibility? opened on September 10, under the direction of Professor David Byrd, URI School of Education and Associate Professor Diane Kern, URI School of Education. Presenters include Pulitzer Prize-winning author Geraldine Brooks; Freeman Hrabowski, President, University of Maryland, Baltimore County and Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Sheryl WuDunn.

For Spring, 2014, we are offering two Honors Colloquia: Classroom without Borders, directed by Rob Widell, Assistant Professor of History, and Prison Arts/Arts in the Prisons, directed by Karen De Bruin of Languages.

The Honors Program and Visiting Scholars Committee has selected for the Fall, 2014 Honors Colloquium: "Cyber Security and Personal Privacy in the Digital Age" to be co-coordinated by Professor Ed Lamagna, Computer Science & Statistics; Professor Victor Fay-Wolf, Computer Science & Statistics; Associate Professor Lisa DiPippo, Computer Science & Statistics; Associate Professor Lindsay Sun, Electrical, Computer, and Biomedical Engineering.

A call for proposals for Fall 2015 will be distributed to the campus community in November.

E. Awards and Endowment

The Honors Colloquium has two endowed lectures thanks to the help of Tom Zorabedian and Dean Winnie Brownell. We are working with Katherine Flynn, Director of Corporate and Foundation Relations at the URI Foundation to increase external support for the Honors Colloquium.

F. Visiting Scholars

We supported several faculty proposals to bring visiting scholars to campus. We also worked with Vice Provost Laura Beauvais to award grants for international distinguished visiting scholars. Four scholars visited the campus for weeklong visits over the course of the academic year. We will work with the Provost's office in developing and evaluating this program.

G. Senior Honors Projects and Undergraduate Research

Senior Honors Projects were presented at the ninth annual Honors Undergraduate Research Day on May 2, 2013. The student conference scheduled concurrent sessions throughout the day for humanities, social science, natural science, and professional college projects in Lippitt Hall. Each senior completing a project also contributed an abstract to a booklet of abstracts available in the Honors Center in Lippitt Hall. Presenters and titles are listed in Appendix B along with faculty sponsors. Associate Director Carolyn Hames serves as the major advisor to students completing the Honors program and is the main organizer of the annual research conference.

I want to express sincere appreciation to these faculty sponsors who devote their time to mentoring the senior honors students. Their contribution is particularly remarkable in that thirty-four of these faculty members were not teaching an honors course in 2012-2013. Together with the sixty honors faculty teaching HPR courses, this brings the total number of faculty participating in the Honors Program during 2012-2013 to ninety-four (94).

We continue to assist Karen Markin of the Division of Research and Economic Development on the Undergraduate Research Awards. This program, generously funded by Vice President Peter Alfonso and Provost Donald DeHayes, provides support for undergraduate research across the University, whether students are in Honors or not. I also wish to thank Provost DeHayes for his continued commitment to supporting student research in the Honors Program.

H. Spring Honors Celebration and Awards Ceremony

The Spring Honors Celebration and Awards ceremony was held on May 2, 2013 in Lippitt Hall.

I. Honors Program and Visiting Scholars Committee 2012-2013

The members of the Honors Program and Visiting Scholars Committee during the past year were: Professor Richard McIntyre, Economics, Director, Honors Program; Professor Jose Amador, Natural Resource Science; Associate Professor Sylvia Dorado-Banacloche, Business Administration; Associate Professor Librarian Mona Niedbala, University Library; Professor Arthur Spivack, Graduate School of Oceanography; Professor Sherri Wills, Art & Art History, and Director of the Film/Media Program; Associate Professor Jeffrey Bratberg, College of Pharmacy, Coordinator of Colloquium ex officio.

J. Honors Student and Faculty Initiatives

The Student Advisory Board met on a bi-weekly basis throughout the year and advised the Director on a number of program issues. The Board also organized several potluck dinners and represented the program at numerous University outreach events.

We also piloted a new program in which senior honors students are able to design and lead a freshmen seminar under faculty guidance. In Fall Patrick Slavin led a seminar on “China’s 80后 and 90后: The Next Generation of Leaders in the World’s Next under the guidance of Wen Xiong. We are currently evaluating this initiative.

K. National Fellowships

Led by Assistant Director Kathleen Maher, Honors supported successful fellowship and scholarship applications from students from six of the seven colleges serving undergraduates: A&S, CBA, CELS, COE, HSS, and Pharmacy.

In addition to strong academic achievement, the 2012-13 awardees all hail from either rigorous, often interdisciplinary, programs (Honors, IEP/IBP, Pre-med, Chinese Flagship) and/or have been involved in substantial, formative experiential learning experiences (research, service, internships).

A representative of the Department of State's Critical Languages Scholarship program made a campus-wide presentation and visited several language classes to raise awareness about the program. Jessica Andruzzi (Chinese Flagship) was selected for a Critical Languages Scholarship to China. For the second year in a row Assistant Director Kathleen Maher served on a Critical Languages Scholarship selection panel.

L. Pre-Health

Assistant Honors Director Kathleen Maher chairs the Health Professions Advisory Committee (HPAC), which assists students in preparing for application to graduate level professional programs in the human health sciences. The volunteer committee, which is made of five faculty members, puts students through a series of group and individual interviews and provides critical feedback on their draft applications and personal statements. A committee letter of endorsement is then prepared for each qualified student who has completed the process. The 2012-2013 members of the HPAC were faculty members: Brenton DeBoef (Chemistry), H. James Harwood (adjunct in Cell & Molecular Biology Honors), Niall Howlett (Cell & Molecular Biology), Katherine Petersson (Fisheries, Animal & Veterinary Sciences), and Andrea A. Rusnock (History).

Through the Brown-URI Early Identification Program (EIP), sophomore Shayla Minter (MLS & Business Admin, Honors, Pre-med) received early contingent admission to the Warren Alpert Medical School.

90% (18/20) of students who were recommended by the Health Professions Advisory Committee (HPAC) have received medical, dental or optometry acceptances. Most applicants received scholarship funds and multiple offers, including two MD/PhD candidates. Although final matriculation data will be available in October 2013, as of July 2013 the following institutions have accepted at least one HPAC-endorsed student:

- Medical: Albany, Brown, Drexel, Eastern VA, Einstein, Jefferson, LECOM-Bradenton, Mayo, Mt. Sinai, Northwestern, Nevada, NYCOM, NYMC, Ohio State, Rochester, Ross, Rutgers (RWJMS), Stony Brook, SUNY Upstate, Tulane, TX Southwestern, UConn, UMass, UNECOM, UVM, Vanderbilt, VCU, Wake Forest, Wash U
- Dental: BU, Tufts, UConn, Western
- Optometry: ICO, MCPHS

M. Honors Housing

Housing is available to upper class students on the 4th floor of the Garrahy apartments. There is generally significant excess demand for the 50 beds on that floor and we hope to expand Honors Housing opportunities.

N. Transition

In 2012-13, Honors experienced staff transitions, thanking outgoing Associate Director Walter von Reinhart for his service, welcoming Cheryl Foster as an Associate Director, hiring Caitlin Green to fill the new position of Communications and Outreach Specialist and, at the close of the year, saying goodbye to Richard McIntyre after his seven-year term as Director and 12-year residence in Honors overall. Program Coordinator Deborah Gardiner, Assistant Director Kathleen Maher, and Carolyn Hames, Associate Director with responsibility for overseeing Senior Projects, continued to provide invaluable support to the program and its students. 2012-13 marked Lecturer Brian Clinton's second year with Honors, in his part-time role advising pre-health students.
